¼ Space No.1

Hello!! It's Marimo Ragawa.

Recently I've been drinking rice vinegar. Diluted, of course, but it's still too sour to bear. So I add some zero-calorie sugar. The TV said the vinegar has a rejuvenating effect which I don't know how much truth is in that. Ah! It does help with bowel movement though. I was about to give up because of the taste but then I found the honeyed version in a local drugstore. It's much more drinkable if I add water. Anyway, who knows how long I'll keep up with it.

NGH!
